DID YOU KNOW...

about cooking with natural gas?

- Natural gas cooking provides easy temperature control, quick heating, self-ignition, self-cleaning and reduced costs.
- Most professional chefs prefer natural gas stoves and/or gas grills as the premium option for cooking excellent food.
- Many natural gas appliances can work during a power outage. During a power outage, you’ll still have natural gas coming to your home because your supplier will have backup generators maintaining service. You can continue using gas barbecues and gas stoves once you light them with a match.
- Gas-powered cooking is safe, efficient, and economical providing perks, like precise temperature control in cooking.
- National studies show that homeowners overwhelmingly prefer natural gas to electric for cooking.
Lighting the way.

We are very proud of the newly installed gas lights that line Court and 3rd Streets, just outside our Kingston Office! Vice Mayor for the City of Kingston, Tara Stockton, had this comment about our partnership with them for this venture.

"ORUD gas street lights add traditional charm and creates a distinctive atmosphere. Our Beautification vision of a "Kingston's Gaslight Historical Trail" that starts at Old Roane County Courthouse (1850’s) and connects to each Historical site by gas lights. We believe this creates an interest in learning the history while enjoying the beauty of the gas lights."
